

Followup to Last Remarks

The first section discontinued is the News directory. It has been the section which has caused the most difficulties in spite of the tremendous support of a few folks. I am not sure of the motivation of the entrenched powers to refuse to simply add a cc: to me when they send late breaking news to The Field, but for whatever it is, it is one of the major contributors to the demise of the site. The annual schedule subdirectory will remain for this season; continuance will depend on support and feedback.

Polls will remain for for this season.

On-Line Publications and Articles of Interest will remain because of the huge amount of positive feedback through the years. Undeserved I'm sure, but the articles on pen-raised birds have been called seminal. Hopefully one of the other sites will absorb them.

No decision has been made on Advertising, but at least for the time being no new ads will be accepted.

No decision yet on Twitter and and the Chat Room.

Additional recommendation for you is a new message board for horseback trials:

I will update these remarks.
